Johnson Stanhope Citizen '88

Elvin Johnson has been named Stanhope Township Citizen of the Year.

The presentation of the award was made Saturday evening at the municipality's annual Christmas party.

In announcing this year's selection, Reeve Harry Davis noted that Elvin Johnson had been a member of the municipal council for almost 20 years, including a three year term as Deputy Reeve which ended this year. He told the audience, at County Council meetings, Deputy Reeve Johnson was referred to as "the gentleman from Stanhope", a term he said was indicative of the respect other councillors held for the man.

Reeve Davis noted that Johnson had distinguished himself as a representative of the township at the county level and as an active and concerned member of the municipal council. "There isn't a tree or corner of this township that he doesn't know," Davis told the packed hall.

The reeve said this year's citizen of the year had made a particularly strong contribution to the Elvin Johnson, Stanhope Township Citizen of the Year, helps to shed a little light on his lengthy list of accomplishments being enumerated by Reeve Harry Davis. The award was presented to the former Deputy Reeve at the municipality's annual Christmas party Saturday evening.

Harrison wins in recount

All others stand pat

Two found votes in favour of Eleanor Harrison in last Tuesday's election recount in Stanhope Township will serve to overturn the original count that gave Barbara Nangle the final council seat.

On election night, the tally showed Harrison in fourth place with 277 votes, just one behind Nangle's 278. However, the recount on Tuesday discovered two additional votes in Harrison's favour, which was just enough to push her ahead of Nangle to win the seat on council.

Harrison will serve the next three years along with councillors Murray Daniels and Fred Gardner, Deputy Reeve Ann Barker and Reeve Harry Davis.

The Stanhope recount was just one of four to take place in Haliburton municipalities last week. However, it was the only one that reversed the election-night standings. Other recounts took place in Minden, Monmouth and Lutterworth townships.

Lewis wins by 12

The gap between Lewis Stevens and Verne Graham increased by nine votes as a result of the recount in Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships.

Graham, who requested the recount after the original count showed him just three votes behind Stevens, lost one vote in the recount. Stevens, on the other hand, gained eight votes to increase the spread to 12 votes.

Stevens will be serving his first term on council along with councillors Bob Sisson and Mike Maher, Deputy Reeve Bern Berry and Reeve Ray Moore.

The recount in Lutterworth did find some errors in the original count, but they offset each other, leaving the end results unchanged.

Incumbent councillor Lisa Mercer will keep her council seat. She edged challenger Don Grozelle's 164 votes and incumbent Elizabeth Wright's 161.

Mercer will serve the coming term along with councillors Bill Valentine, and Maurice Boyd, Deputy Reeve Jim McMahon and Reeve Carol Puffer.

One small counting error was not enough to change the standings in Monmouth Township as Dwayne Tighe and Joyce Barras managed to maintain their lead over Jim Deterling.

Originally Tighe and Barras finished with a tie for the second and third council seats with only two more votes than fourth-place finisher Deterling. The recount increased

Two Metro officers fined

Two Metro police officers and a former officer were convicted last week of assault causing bodily harm during a drunken brawl more than two years earlier while at a cottage on Paudash Lake.

Staff Sergeant Patrick Kelly, 55, his son Constable Steven Kelly, 30, and Gerald Payne, 52, were all fined $1,500 and received one day's probation last Wednesday from Judge George Inrig, who said this was one of the hardest rulings he has had to make in his 15 years as a Provincial Court Judge.

The altercation took place in June of 1986 while the two off-duty officers were at the cottage owned by Payne, who had previously resigned from the Metro police force. The three were said to be drunk when they beat John Wilcox, 53, a neighbour of Payne's.

Court heard that the fight broke out after Wilcox complained about Payne's dog attacking his own. Wilcox was left with bruises, broken glasses and broken dentures as a result of the beating that the judge said was unprovoked.

While contemplating the sentence to be handed down, Judge Inrig said the fact that two of the men are police officers should not work against them since they were off duty at the time of the assault. However, the fact that all three are trained in marshall arts and are taught controlled violence has to be taken into consideration, he said.

Crown Attorney Chris Meinhardt suggested a term in jail for Patrick

Kelly, who he described as "the first most aggressive" and the first to strike a blow against Wilcox.

Inrig agreed a jail

Santa's coming to Kinmount

The first chill winds of the season before us nip at fingers set busily at decorating the main streets and storefronts in every village throughout the region, in preparation for the festive season.

In Kinmount businesses, community groups and citizens from every walk of life are hurriedly preparing for a special event again this year ... a visit from the jolly gent himself.

Set in his sleigh and aglow with good cheer he's expected in town, much as last year, with a parade to herald Santa's arrival as Christmas draws near.

And in the Legion Hall they've set a special place for Santa to rest and bring joy to each face of each child with dreams of Christmas morning and gifts set under the tree.

So they're all busying themselves, preparing the floats, sewing the seams and cooking the fare to welcome Saint Nicholas when he arrives there. And the youngsters can laugh at the clowns or sing with the choir, in wide-eyed amazement their expectations draw higher.

The Santa Claus parade returns to Kinmount the 11th of December. Circle the date, so you'll remember! For in this season of blessedness, we share in all our community's togetherness.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Mary Casey, Florence Hunter and Verlie Young who passed away since last week.

Wonder if we are to have a mild winter, someone when cleaning their window had a butterfly there.

It's that time again when we get rushed,
Although stores are busy you're not pushed.
Your weekly list has more added
As your plan for festive days are padded.

Flying in or flying out, driving here or going there
Many people plan to visit somewhere.

When you think about this hurry

Thoughts of the True meaning scurry.

Christmas is for love and giving

The Lord gave his greatest gift in the beginning.

Coming events are Civic Action of Kinmount having Santa Claus Parade Sunday, December 11, Minden Agricultural Society meeting December 13, at 7:30 at the home of Bess Cox and Minden Women's Institute at Minden United Church Hall at 2 on December 14 with all ladies welcome.

We, Jean and I, really enjoyed the play, 'Never Too Late' at Haliburton High last Saturday; we will surely get to more of these plays.

Just For Today

I will try to live my life a little better
Just for today
Be more considerate of others
Less fortunate than I
Along the way
Turn to others for help
When I feel I cannot cope
There I'll find a ray of hope
Life is hard not easy
As most of us all know
But to try and smell the roses
Not feel the thorns
Is the surest way to go
Put our trust in higher power Knowing truth is always right

And turn our steps from things

That cause distraction
Looking up toward the light

It will all be possible in what we do and say

If we will all live our daily lives

Just for today.

Yuletime Season

Christmas time is drawing near, a time for happiness and cheer.

All the children are being good because their parents say they should.

Soon they will see the man in the bright red suit.

Before he is covered with ashes and soot.

The choirs are singing their carols so sweet.

And everyone smiles as you meet on the street.

The grownups all are running around to see

Where that special gift can be found.

At last that special day is here

When friends arrive from far and near.

We all sit down in families so glad to be together

And what do we talk about, the good food and the weather.

So once again it comes around

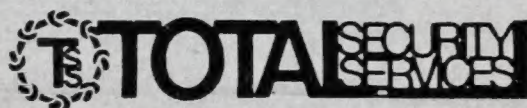

This festival of love and for this lovely time of year we must thank our God above.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down forward, backward and diagonally.

They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Moose harvest at par with 1987

The success of this year's moose hunt in the Minden District of the Ministry of Natural Resources is about on par with the previous year, while the success of the deer hunt is down slightly, Eric Mitchell, a Wildlife Management Officer has indicated.

"Preliminary information collected following the moose hunt in the Minden District indicates a similar hunters success when compared to the results in 1987," says Mitchell.

"The adult bull harvest was similar to 1987, but the number of adult cows increased in the northern part of the District. This increase may be due to the introduction of the party system to hunt adult moose this year," says Mitchell.

Mitchell indicates "preliminary results from the two-week deer season in the Minden District show a slight decrease in the deer harvested. The Minden office has received 202 deer jaws so far this year and 360 deer hides. This is down slightly from last year."

"This may not necessarily represent a decrease in deer numbers but may be more a result of the unfavourable weather conditions throughout the hunt. The rain, high winds and lack of snow certainly hampered many hunters," says Mitchell.

A more accurate analysis of the moose and deer hunt results will be available when information collected from hunter surveys is completed.

Deterling's count by only one vote to leave him still trailing Barras by one. Tighe also found two more votes in the recount to hold onto the second council seat.

Barras and Tighe will serve along with councillor Gary Stoughton, Deputy Reeve Harry Clark and Reeve Keith Tallman.

Court

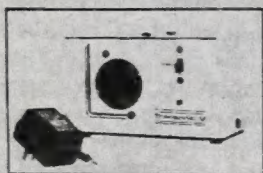

sentence would be justified for all three. However, he felt a stiff fine was more in order when all other considerations are taken into account.

The court heard earlier that the careers of both Patrick and Steven Kelly could be at stake as a result of the ruling. The elder Kelly is a staff sergeant and 32-year veteran of the force. Steven Kelly is a Constable, who is said to have idolized his father and wished to follow in his footsteps.

Joe Dollo, Minden merchant, died Sunday

A prominent member of the Minden business community, Joe Dollo, passed away Sunday morning at the Minden Hospital. Mr. Dollo had been ill for a number of months.

Joseph William Dollo was a partner with his brother Peter in the Dollo's Brothers Fruit Market, a Main Street store that grew from a small fruit stand to a major grocery store serving the Minden area. Dollo's IGA.

The two brothers opened their first store in Minden in 1946 occupying a number of Main Street locations to accommodate the growth in business. In 1958 the retail outlet became associated with the IGA group and has grown with the community ever since.

Joe Dollo retired from the business in 1975.

He was born in Toronto in 1915. It was in the city that he and his brother obtained their background in the grocery business, working in various stores and rising to the position of store manager.

In 1942, Joe joined the Royal Canadian Air Force and was stationed in Calgary and Toronto. Following the war, the brothers moved to Minden and opened their first store in this community.

Joe Dollo is survived by his wife Florence, five children, Joan, Louise, Anne, Rose and Joe Jr. and numerous grandchildren. Also surviving are sisters Theresa and Mary and brothers Peter and Frank. He was predeceased by sisters Phyllis and Lucy.

Funeral service will be held Wednesday December 7 at Our Lady of Fatima Roman Catholic Church in Minden at 11 a.m. Visitation at the Gordon A. Monk Funeral home will be Monday evening from 7 to 9 p.m., Tuesday afternoon 2 to 4 p.m. and Tuesday evening 7 to 9 p.m. A Rosary prayer service will be held Tuesday evening at the funeral home chapel at 8 p.m.

Many accomplishments

Congratulations are again in order for Sinc Nesbitt, whose team of Belgian mares won second place at the first North American Belgian Championship Show, held in conjunction with the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.

For more than 30 years, Nesbitt has been competing at the Royal, and through his consistent good results, he has promoted the name of Haliburton County.

In addition to the usual stress of showing at the Royal, Nesbitt was also in the midst of an election campaign at the time. Still, though, he and his helpers managed strong results competing with the top horses in all of North America.

His election campaign was not as successful though, and after tomorrow's inaugural meeting he will be stepping down as Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve.

He and his council accomplished many of their goals over the past three years, most notable of which is the upgrading of the Bobcaygeon Road beyond the bridge. We appreciate the time and hard work he has invested in this and other projects in the community in the past. And now that he has more time to devote to his horses, we can expect to see more first place finishes at the Royal in the future.

Dorset acid rain report

The following report on precipitation events was recorded at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing station in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada.

The following report is for the period of November 20 - 26.

November 20 - 6 mm mixed rain and snow, 4.6 pH from Pennsylvania, New York and eastern Ontario.

November 26 - 5 mm rain, 4.0 pH from Kentucky, Ohio and southern Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Reading of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Time to prune wallet weeds

Every six months or so I develop this strange ailment. I start listing noticeably to starboard. I walk down streets as if I'm leaning into a turn on the Indianapolis Speedway. I perch on chairs and stools looking like someone let the air out of one of my buns.

Such symptoms point to one affliction: bloated billfold. It's time once again to administer a high colonic to my wallet.

Credit cards mostly. For some reason people keep sending me credit cards. Maybe they get me confused with Conrad Black? I don't know, but usually I'm so pleased to see my name spelled out in gold embossed plastic that I keep the cards - just stuff them in my wallet along with all the others. Then, twice a year on average, I haul out a pair of pinkish shears and go through my wallet, separating the chaff from the chaff.

I've got some pips this year. Here's one from a Toronto-based firm that permits me to purchase up to a thousand dollars worth of mountaineering equipment.

I have conquered exactly no mountains thus far in my life, and that's a record I fully intend to take to my grave. How the hell did I end up with this card? Here's another one that entitles me to buy groceries in a Florida supermarket chain. I haven't been to Florida black 'n white

by Arthur Black

in three years!

Here's another that says I'm valued member number 726 of the Canadian Tire Video Club (Fergus, Ont. chapter) and as such, can rent video cassettes upon presentation of this card.

I happen to know that I can walk in off the street and rent a movie upon presentation of three pieces of green paper bearing pictures of the queen, so why am I lugging this card around?

Out, out!

I've got a lot of dumb cards to dump, but whenever my personal proliferation of plastic gets me down, I just pause and think of Walter Cavanagh of Santa Clara, California. Walter has more credit cards than I have. As a matter of fact, Walter has more credit cards than you and I and Imelda and Marcos have put together. Walter has one thousand...

One hundred...

and forty-seven credit cards.

And what's more he keeps most of them in a wallet.

A rather special wallet, to be sure - and not one that Walter packs in his hip pocket. It's a custom-made accordion-style job with pockets for 800 cards. Walter could take his wallet to the top of a 30 storey building and flip it over the side. Unfurled, it would reach all the way to the sidewalk.

Walter has cards that allow him to charge everything from an ice cream cone at Baskin-Robbins to a blackjack game in Reno, Nevada. He applies for at least 100 new cards a month - and gets quite a few of them. Why bother? Glory, partly. His name is already in the Guinness Book of Records and Ripley's Believe It Or Not. But Walter has a target as well. He reckons there are more than 10,000 different charge cards floating around on this continent and he intends to get one of each. "I figure I only have 12 per cent of what's out there. My goal is to get them all."

No doubt Walter's got his eye on the latest credit card to hit the market - fresh from the thermoplastic extrusion machines of Leader Federal Savings and

Wife assault touches all society

Editor:

November is Wife Assault Prevention Month. On November 10 the Victoria County Women's Resource and Advocacy Service presented a conference on Wife Assault: A Community Problem Needing A Community Response. I learned many, many things in attendance at this conference and among them was the fact that wife assault is a criminal offence that is widespread and touches each and every one of our lives somewhere along the line ultimately having an adverse affect on the community as a whole.

To benefit in our community, we as individuals and at all community levels, need to learn more about how to overcome this social problem. This is the month to begin an increased awareness of wife assault. We can learn more, understand more and be more supportive.

A support service for abused women in Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton counties, is provided by the Family Violence Safety Network and offers counselling, a 24-hour crisis line (1-800-461-7656) safe shelter, transportation and financial help.

The John Howard Society of Victoria/Haliburton (705) 328-0472 provides the community with the service of a program for men who use violent behaviour to control their partners.

The Ontario government announced on August 16, an increase in funding to prevent wife assault.

"We have a long-term commitment to eliminate family violence. Violence against women in the home has serious consequences for our whole society. All of us have a duty to put an end to it," said Gregory Sorbara, Minister Responsible for Women's Issues.

Because Family Violence hurts everyone - family, friends and society as a whole - it is everyone's responsibility to recognize the seriousness of family violence, to seek help for

Great Expectations: Part I

There is a saying that goes "If you expect nothing to happen, you won't be disappointed". There is a lot of truth in that. I suppose that is the reason people get so cynical about any process which involves waiting for a decision, such as an election, or a court decision, or a pronouncement from the church. Nothing will really change, we say, and so it's no use getting involved in the thing: after all, it's all politics. And that last word is spoken with bile in the mouth.

That attitude is tragic, really. You go through life with no real sense that what you are doing will make a bean hill of difference in the world, much less your own life. You do what you have to do in order to get by, to feed yourself and the kids, make the payments on the car, stretch that mother's allowance cheque until you can practically see through it and even then it won't get you through that last week before the next one comes.

directions

by Edward Moll

Granted, circumstances affect the way we expect our world to change. If they're bad enough, we either give up and say that's the way it is, or rant and rave against the darkness, expending our energy in all directions at once. If they're good enough, why change at all except to improve what we already have and are? The line between powerless apathy and satisfaction is blurry at times.

As we enter into the season called Advent, those four weeks before Christmas, we are reminded that the Christian story of Jesus coming among us challenges both apathy and satisfaction. Throughout the Scriptures we find an eternal restlessness, a kind of holy dissatisfaction with the way things are. It's something like the maternal "nesting instinct" that I've heard some mothers talk about a few weeks before their child was born. The mother waits (and so does the father!) for something to happen, and when it does they want to be sure that they are prepared for the event. The waiting is charged with hope and love, and no little apprehension and anxiety.

Advent is about that kind of expectation. The Lord is about to appear among us, again this season, and indeed every day of our lives. Will he recognize him when he comes? In good times or bad, that question is put to us, and our lives depend on how we answer.

More next week.

Panther Power was in evidence as both the boys and girls volleyball teams won third place finishes in the annual J.D.Hodgson Tournament on November 29. The ASES boys' team won all four of its games leading up to the semi-finals but was edged by Bancroft in two straight games. The girls' team won three out of its four games and was also edged by Bancroft in the semi-finals in a best of three series. Team members include, from the left, front, Angela Cameion, Tina Gilbert, Emily Henderson, Toni Cooper, Kim Smith and Anna Tomlinson. Back row: Coach Nick Pawluch, Bobbi Griffin, Dawn Gartshore, Tina Cooper, Stacey Vick and Jaime Kent.

Trivia: Dreaming of a White Christmas.

What cities are most likely to be white for Christmas? Winnipeg and Quebec each has a 100% chance. Edmonton's chance is 98%. Ottawa 82%, Montreal 80%, Vancouver - a white Christmas occurs less than one year in 10 and Halifax and Toronto the chances are even. Haliburton County's chances are about 90% for a white Christmas.

Minden OPP notes

During the week of November 21 to 27 officers of the OPP Minden Detachment investigated 39 general occurrences and 11 traffic accidents with four persons injured.

Thefts around the County

Hwy. 503 - two wooden wagon wheels, 4' diameter, unpainted.

Injury accident

Two persons received minor injuries in an accident which occurred on November 25 at 11:40 p.m.

Robert Falke, 18, of Rexdale was westbound entering Haliburton on Highway 121. Falke lost control of his vehicle in the curve and collided with the Dysart Fire Hall damaging a fire truck. The injured persons were taken to hospital.

Wilful damage

Sean Everett Eastman, 19, of Dysart Township has been charged with wilful damage. Police were called to the Beaconbrook Hotel in Haliburton about 7:30 p.m. November 26 after a large window had been broken. Eastman will appear in Provincial Court on January 4.

Provincial Constable Mark Davis investigated.

HOMETOWN CHRISTMAS '88

YOUR HOMETOWN

A great place ... to live, to grow, to shop. With the Christmas season just around the corner, you are no doubt preparing your shopping list. This year, visit local shops and stores first. Local businesses are an important part of your community. They provide services year 'round, are there when you need them and have a wide selection of merchandise. Moreover, local businesses provide employment opportunities, contribute to the welfare of the community and take an active interest in the growth and future of your hometown.

Just show up at a participating Honda dealer with any old beat-up shovel and you'll get $100 for it if you purchase a shiny new Honda snowthrower. Most of the new snowthrower models have overhead valve engines, which use approx-

Ingram scores five, Vasey loses anyway

The season is almost half over for the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League and the Rockcliffe still has a firm grip on first place with a record of six wins and no losses.

With the most successful offence and defence in the league, the Rockcliffe extended their perfect record with another easy win over third-place Home Hardware last Monday night.

Floyd Hall Insurance took sole possession of second place by outgunning Hartwick, and The Times held onto their share of third by edging Vasey Real Estate.

Times 9, Vasey 8

Five goals from the stick of Vasey's Ivan Ingram was not enough to secure his team their second win of the season. The Times just edged Vasey at the wire with a late third-period goal to take the 9-8 win.

Ingram did the bulk of Vasey's scoring with five goals. Myles Gartshore, Ken Barry and Dennis McKee added one each.

Craig Crowe led The Times with two goals while singles were notched by Ben Manuge, Paul Perreault, Lou Reynolds, Merv Mintz, Dave Pettes and Irwin Asbel.

The men's recreational hockey league hits the half-way mark tonight and the Rockcliffe team is still unbeaten.

Halls 12, Hartwick 4

The second game of the night was not nearly as close as the first. From the first drop of the puck, Halls had control of the play, leaving Hartwick goaltender Kevin Smith no time to sit back and enjoy the view.

Halls' number 10, Larry Sawyer, was a familiar face in front of the Hartwick net. He scored four of the 12 goals in this lopsided match. Dave Hartwick scored another three for Halls while Colin Wilson added two. Murray Bettleson, Kevin Hamilton and Ed Gibbons scored one each for the winners.

John Fedeski notched three of Hartwick's four goals. Sid MacKeigan was responsible for the other.

Rockcliffe 10, Home 6

Home Hardware put in a strong performance against the talented Rock-cliffe squad, but they ran into third-period troubles and dropped the 10-6 decision.

At the end of two periods, Home had a 5-4 lead. However, the Rockcliffe came on strong in the final frame to outscore their opponents six goals to one and maintain an untarnished record. For Home, the loss means a drop in the standings to third place, one game back of Halls.

The Rockcliffe demonstrated their widespread scoring ability. Six of their 11 skaters had a hand in the goal scoring.

Scott Hamilton did most of the damage with three goals. Barry Boice and Norman Barry each scored two. Dean Hewitt, Scott Gartshore and Jim Crawford scored one each.

Dave Rogers and Gary Nelson led the Home team with two goals each. Mark Switalski and Dave Wheeler each scored one goal.

The seventh week of the schedule will unfold tonight at the Minden arena. At 7 p.m. Vasey takes on Hartwick in the battle of the basement. At 8:30 p.m. Halls and Home will fight it out for second place in the standings. And at 10 p.m. The Times will try to put a flaw in the Rockcliffe's perfect record.

Redmen blast Campbellford

6-2 win makes it three straight for the HHSS
Redmen

The stands were packed last Thursday as the HHSS Redmen hockey team took on Campbellford at the Dysart arena and outscored their guests 6-2. The Campbellford Flames scored twice in the first period, but outstanding forechecking throughout the rest of the game kept the puck outside of the home team's blue line. This is the third win for the Redmen, who are undefeated so far in scheduled play.

Kinmount kids on their toes

At some point in their childhood almost every little girl dreams of becoming a famous ballet dancer - of dancing the lead in Swan Lake - of becoming a prima ballerina.

For an hour every week, 18 young Kinmount area girls live out those dreams through ballet classes being offered two nights a week at the community centre.

When Dianne Williams moved to Kinmount a little over two years ago she soon realized there were few organized activities for young children to participate in. With this in mind, and drawing on her own talent and background as a dancer, she decided to try and find out if there was enough interest to support some ballet classes in the community. Now in its second year, there are three classes of various age groups and abilities.

Williams, herself, has always had a love of ballet and at a young age chose to make it her career. She studied dance at the University of Saskatchewan and furthered her talents through classes with the Royal Winnipeg

Ballet.

When she moved to Kinmount, she continued taking dance classes at Sir Sandford Fleming College in Lindsay, where she met Andrea Harris. Harris is now helping out with classes as well as teaching ballet to children in Burnt River.

On Wednesday nights a small group of girls aged two-and-a-half to four, come to the community centre to practice and have fun for about one hour. A second group arrives later and the older students and those who in last year's class practice on Friday nights.

The idea of ballet practice conjures up images of painful stretching and rigid exercise. At least for the younger dancers, that is not the case. It was plain to see from last Wednesday's classes that the most important element of dance is the enjoyment.

Without really even realizing it, though, the young students are being taught to do movements in a purposeful way. Williams says that for many of the students, these classes are their first experience at thinking

(more on page 21)

Learning how to curtsy will be important for young dancers when they have their recital in January.

Ballet teacher Dianne Williams likes to use fairy tales as a theme for the dances with young students because they have so much fun with them. For the young dancers, these classes provide an activity while also teaching them the fundamentals of movement and dance.

Recital set for January

about how they are moving their bodies rather than simply playing.

Throughout most of last week's session, the students acted out fairy tales with exaggerated expression and movement. Williams says she uses fairy tales because that's what children love. It also gets the children to interpret short stories through dance and leaves room for a lot of imagination.

Williams and her students are now working toward a chilling recital, slated for January 15 when all three classes will put on a production of Frosty The Snowman.

Stanhope honours Elvin Johnson township in the development of community parks. He noted that the park on Halls Lake had been developed under the guidance of Elvin Johnson and that much of the physical labour at the site had been done by Mr. Johnson. He said in recognition of this outstanding effort, the park will be named the Elvin Johnson Halls Lake Park. An archway bearing that inscription will be erected over the entrance-way to the park.

Mr. Johnson, after receiving the plaque of recognition from the reeve, described the honour as something he and his wife Dorothy would cherish for a long time to come. He told the audience, the selection came as a surprise.

Indicative of his concern for Stanhope Township, Elvin Johnson said that although he has retired from active service as a member of the council, he is looking forward to continuing to serve the municipality as a member of various committees. "...if they'll have me."

In addition to the many municipal employees and community volunteers in attendance at the gathering, Elvin and Dorothy's sons, Ray, Ralph and David were also on hand to witness the presentation of the honour.

Fire department

Also honoured at the Saturday evening dinner was the Stanhope Fire Department. This year, the department had placed first in a forest fire education competition among rural volunteer fire departments. The competition was sponsored by the Ontario Forestry Association.

Explaining that the association was better known to the public as "the Smokey the Bear people." Lew Ringham chairman of the OFA forest fire education committee, told the gathering the association had been challenged by the Ministry of Natural Resources to find a way to encourage the spread of forest fire prevention information. He said among 25 departments involved in the program, Stanhope's came out on top.

A plaque recognizing the effort was presented to Fire Chief Bob Nangle while a cheque for $500 was presented to Dan Stiver chairman of the Stanhope Firemen's Association. "Keep up the good work," Ringham said, "don't rest on your laurels."

Municipal staff claim 'spiel title

Township employees were burning up the ice on November 20 as the municipality's entry in the annual Businessmen's Bonspiel captured first place.

Wally Mysyk skipped his rink to two strong wins, earning enough points to keep ahead of the second place foursome. Curling on his team were his wife Mary, Mary Jane Irwin and Sharon Douglas.

The entry from Bill Roodenburg Real Estate took second place in the 'spiel, also winning both of their games. Along with skip Bill Roodenburg were his wife Sybil, son Herb and Laurie-Ann Welch.

In third place was the Moynes Furniture team, with Dave Camelon, Mary Raby, Donna Dillon and Jim Churko.

In all, there were eight teams competing in this fun bonspiel which was organized by Anita Beaver, who also cooked the delicious dinner enjoyed by all following the matches.

Falcons lead in bowling league with 92.5 points

Well, we are back once again with another weekly report on the bowling leagues.

On the Dorset league we find the Falcons in first place with 92.5 points, followed by the Wishers with 89.5 points, and the Slow Pokes at 89 points. Trailing the pack are the Double Bubbles with 88 points, the Novars with 84 points, and the Misfits with 61 points.

The standings for the Men's Commercial league has Harding Metals in first with 124 points, Modern Electric 113 points, Carnarvon Lanes 99 points, West Guilford Recreation 90 points, Ingoldsby 81 points, and last but not least Payne Real Estate with 60 points.

For the Vankoughnet League the Westside Warriors have the lead with 41 points, and they are followed by the Ups and Downs with 29 points, and the Striking Bandits with 28 points. In the lower echelon we find the Dummies have 19 points, the Marylenes 17 points, and the team of Re Max have 13 points.

For any further developments stay tuned until next week.

Nesbitt team places second at Royal Sinc Nesbitt's Misty River Farm has again earned enviable results at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, this year against some very impressive competition.

In conjunction with the 60th anniversary of the Royal, the Canadian Belgian Horse Association held the first North American Belgian Championship Show. In all, there were 350 of North America's top-quality Belgian horses competing for the $60,000 in prize money.

Although Nesbitt had been hoping for better results, a second place finish for his team of registered mares is still quite an accomplishment at this level of competition.

The show itself is being described as one of the most successful draft horse promotional events in history. Breeders from as far away as Alberta,

New Brunswick, North Dakota, and Georgia brought their best Belgian horses to exhibit in this show. The goal of the show was to promote the breeding, raising and showing of Belgian horses, and in this sense it was a clear success. A number of horses were sold as a result of the show, including sales to California and Japan.

Among the winners in the show were many from Ontario. Douglas Palmer of Schomberg was the Premier Exhibitor, had the Grand Champion Mare and the Supreme Grand Champion Belgian. Jack and Audrey Bunston, also of Schomberg, won the $18,000 six-horse-hitch prize. The Grand Champion Stallion was the entry of Beth Graham of Schomberg.

Sinc Nesbitt's daughter Wendy Billings took seventh place out of eighteen entries in the Belgian Ladies cart class at the N.A.B.C.

for your service

by Lorna Hicks, Minden Lioness

The Minden Lioness club wishes to extend best wishes for the holiday season and in the coming year. Our thanks go to all in the community who have supported our endeavors. In the past six months this has enabled the Lioness to support Retinitis Pigmentosa, Five Counties Children's Centre, CNIB, Children's Wish Foundation, County Christmas Drive and Goodie Baskets for Hyland Crest residents will soon be on their way.

To Northernways, our driver Alan Rice and all who supported us by enjoying a day out in Barrie, thank you. Also please be sure to get your ticket on the Christmas Hamper Draw; Hamper $100 value, second, Ceramic Christmas Tree, third a turkey, at only $1.00 for three or 50 cents each. Draw December 17.

We were fortunate to have our District President, Lioness Lyn Nowitski from Ajax, at our Pot Luck Supper meeting in November to assist in the dedication of a Club Banner in memory of Cliff Lacey, donated by his wife

Jean. Her comment to us is worth passing along, "It is nice to be important, but more important to be nice." Our sister club for this year is Claremont.

We are also busy with tickets for the Snow Time Draw to take place January 15 at Minden's famous Dog Sled Derby. First prize is a quilt, second a wall hanging, third a note pad-keyholder set which are on display at Country Fabrics in town. Tickets same price as Christmas Draw. We have a couple of new ladies visiting our meetings and if there is anyone interested in meeting the Lioness and attending a meeting please call our President Joyce Wright.

Last of all thanks to Jean Sears and her column and The Times for allowing us the space for this column to let you, our friends, neighbours and other supporters know what is taking place in our Club. We are looking toward a happy and successful New Year. Now a few words from our Lions Club:

The Lions Christmas Cakes were successful this year, with a 35 per cent increase in sales. The club thanks the people of the community for their support.

The Minden Sled Dog Derby weekend is fast approaching. The program booklet will soon be in local businesses. It is bigger this year as there was more support from the business sector in Minden and surrounding community. The prize list has increased to 14 from six last year, the price remains the same, 50 cents. More programs are being printed this year because we sold out last year. There will be more teams entering this year because the Mushers prize list has increased. Anyone who has even a few hours free on January 14 and 15, 1989, the Minden Sled Dog Derby committee would appreciate hearing from you, call 286-4642.

The Minden Lions Club now have mints in a number of locations in town. They are a firm type of mint and the cost is 50 cents. We hope you will try them.

A Merry Christmas to all.

3RD ANNUAL TREE DECORATING PARTY!

Bring in an ornament for our Christmas tree and receive a free Christmas surprise!

Limit 1 per customer.

Saturday, December 10th
11 a.m. - midnight

An informal assembly for the presentation of awards and special recognitions was held at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School last Thursday afternoon. The junior soccer team, which completed its season without taking a single loss, was honoured at this assembly. All team members were called to the front of the gym, where Cecil Smith was presented with the Kawartha West championship trophy. In addition, awards for perfect attendance and drivers' education were presented.

Anatomy of a dog team

When the spectators lining Minden's main street for the annual Sled Dog Derby watch the teams leap out of the chute or charge the finish line, they probably think the dogs all look pretty much the same.

The fine eye of the experienced musher can spot the characteristics that led to one dog being run at the front of the team and another at the back, though.

The various positions on a dog team are all quite different and it can make a world of difference to the performance if the musher is experienced enough to know which slot each dog should run in.

The position of most obvious importance is the lead dog or dogs. Val Lougheed, Race Governor of the Minden Sled Dog Derby, which will have its fifth running on January 14 and 15, says the practice of running with a single lead dog out front was changed a number of years ago. "All the pressure was on that one dog," she said, "and it was just too much for them to handle. So now everybody runs their teams harnessed in pairs, with two dogs in the front position."

Lead dogs have a special relationship with their musher and do just what their names suggest: provide leadership. They are independent but extremely responsive to the musher's commands.

"A lead dog is always looking back at you,"

Lougheed says, "always checking in with you, concentrating on you, connected to you by your voice." Lead dogs must have intelligence and courage in order to lead the team where the musher wants it to go - up that hill, around that corner, past that snowmobile. They also have to be the 'driver', always wanting to go faster.

The special characteristics that make for a good lead dog are evident from the beginning. "You can see that kind of responsiveness from the time they're puppies," Lougheed says. "To train new lead dogs, youngsters with those particular qualities are often paired with experienced lead dogs. That gives a combination of

While the dogs may appear all the same to a casual observer, each member of a racing team has an important role to play. A successful sled dog team is a good example of teamwork in action.

energy and experience to the front of the team."

On an eight-dog team, the pair behind the lead dogs are called the point dogs. They have almost the same characteristics as the leaders but are content to run behind other dogs, which the leaders usually are not. At times, to give the leaders a rest from the pressure they're under, mushers will put them in point position for a race. Behind the point dogs are the team dogs. They are the workers, 'nine-to-five dogs' whose only job is to pull. Their greatest characteristics are strength and steadiness. "You only notice them when they're not doing their job," says Loughheed.

The pair behind the team dogs and just in front of the sled are called the wheel dogs. They're a little bigger and a little stronger than any of the other dogs on the team because they bear the weight of the sled.

"They can coast for most of the race, but you need them to respond when you call on them, when you're going up a hill or when you're coming up to the finish line and everybody else is tired. That's when the weight of the sled becomes an issue. They also have to be level-headed, rather than spectacular, because they have to put up with the sled bouncing around and not be thrown by that."

As the mushers train their teams this fall for the season coming up, they run their dogs in all positions to find out which one suits each animal is best. The mushers who know their dogs best, and make the best decisions about who goes where, stand the best chance of taking home a share of the $20,000 purse

THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIPS OF ANSON, HINDON AND MINDEN

By-Law No. 88-54

Being a By-Law to amend By-Law No. 86-26 of the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden (restricted area by-law)

NOW THEREFORE the Council of the Corporation of the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden enacts as follows:-

By-law No. 86-26 is hereby amended as follows:

1. That Schedule "H" to By-law 86-26 be amended by rezoning the lands on Schedule 1 to this By-law from the existing zones (R1, R4, C1, C1*1, C4, I and RU) to Hazard Land (HZ) and Floodway (F).

2. That Schedule "X" showing the Flood Proofing Zone - FP be adopted as part of this By-law as shown on Schedule 2 to this By-law.

3. That Section 4 - USE ZONES is amended by the addition of the following:

4.21 Floodway Zone - F

4.21.1 Permitted Uses

Uses permitted in the Floodway

Zone are as follows:

a) Existing uses buildings & structures
b) Open space, conservation, agriculture, recreation and forestry uses.

4.21.2 Regulations:

a) No building or structures shall be erected nor any fill be removed or placed in any Floodway Zone except as follows:

i) Buildings or structures to be used for purposes of flood or erosion control or the generation of electricity by a public authority. Ontario Hydro or the Orillia Light, Water and Power Company may be constructed.

ii) The extension, enlargement or repair of existing buildings or structures may be permitted with the requirement of floodproofing measures as noted in Section 4.22, and provided that such extension or enlargement is not greater in size than 50% of the existing structure as determined by the gross floor areas.

4.22 Flood Proofing Zone - FP

4.22.1 Regulations:

The Flood Proofing Zone (FP) is an overlay zone which places restrictions on the location of building openings. The FP Zone regulations apply in addition to the requirements of the use zones. No person shall erect any building in any FP

Zone with building openings below the level noted on Schedule 2 to this By-law by the numbers following the letters FP. This level is expressed in metres above sea level based on Canadian Geodetic Datum.

4. This By-law shall come into force upon approval by the Ontario Municipal Board.

Postal workers do Santa's job again this year

Canada Post Corporation employees, who last year volunteered to answer close to 800,000 letters Santa Claus received from children across Canada and other parts of the world, are geared up to do it again this year.

"As in previous years, every child who writes a letter to Santa, addresses it correctly and includes a return address, will receive a reply from the North Pole," said Helene Labelle, this year's national coordinator at Canada Post for Santa's letter writing program.

The program had a modest debut in 1973. That was when a handful of postal employees across the country answered a few thousand letters addressed simply to "Santa Claus" - while several thousand more were addressed to him in care of particular department stores and delivered to those stores.

The Santa Letter Writing Program grew in popularity annually and, due to the ever-increasing number of letters received, became an organized nation-wide project in 1982.

Last year, 8,516 postal employees volunteered their personal time to reply to the nearly 800,000 letters. They were assisted in their letter writing endeavours by senior citizens, community and professional groups across the country.

The program is also part of Canada Post Corporation's support for improved literacy among children. It promotes correct addressing of letters and the use of the postal code. It enhances the magic of Christmas by ensuring that each child who writes a letter to Santa Claus gets a reply from him.

Letters to Santa should be sent to the following address:

Some of us are old enough to remember when garbage wasn't a problem. People whose childhood encompassed the Great Depression and World War Two were brought up on the adage "Waste not, want not". In those days thrift was the mark of good housekeeping, not of destitution.

Worn sheets were cut and sewn sides to middle to create a new sheet. Out-grown knitted items were unravelled and the wool reused in socks and mittens. Clothes were passed down in a family from oldest to youngest, and when the last child had got all the good out of a garment, it was packed off to a church charity or put out with other rags for the ragman.

Empty glass milk bottles were set out every night for the milkman to replace each morning with full ones. Most people had vegetable gardens and the dog and cat ate kitchen scraps, not canned food.

No doubt a younger generation brought up in a time of plentiful and attractive consumer goods will find such a life hard to imagine. But it may have prepared my generation better for what the future holds. For a long time now we have been living extravagantly and as though we would never have to settle our account.

But the piper has to be paid. Suddenly there are no new landfill sites; no one wants to live near other people's garbage. And reports of old landfill sites leaking sinister substances into the ground water have left people angry and frightened. Other methods of disposing of mounting garbage have proved no less dangerous. Incinerators, burning material they were not designed to handle, have been spewing poisons into the atmosphere. Our easy spendthrift living has turned into a nightmare in which we are smothering in our own lethal garbage.

Sinister substances leave people angry, frustrated

Recently the Ontario Ministry of the Environment has been pushing the cause of recycling - something we were doing all those years ago without giving it a name. The Blue Box program has begun in my neighbourhood, and I am encouraged to see how strong the response is. People want to change.

In a recent speech to the Recycling Council of Ontario, the Minister of the Environment, James Bradley, mentioned that the number of municipalities across Ontario served by the Blue Box program has grown from 45 last year to 97 in 1988. This year 130,000 tonnes of paper, glass, metals and PET soft drink containers were recycled, and the goal for 1989 is 170,000. In an attempt to make recycling a province-wide effort, the Minister has designated a special Recycle North Task Force "to address the problems of volume and distance which hinder recycling in northern Ontario."

In his speech the Minister gave a picture of the amount of garbage Ontario produces in a year as being sufficient to fill a line of trucks stretching from Windsor to Whitehorse. Recycling this year will remove 26,000 trucks from that line. Clearly we still have a long way to go.

Perhaps more important at present than actual amounts recycled is the change in public perceptions brought about by a conscious effort to recycle. Many people are pausing to re-examine the way they live, and to consider the environmental consequences of a product before they buy. To promote this kind of positive thinking the federal government is promoting the development of a logo which would be placed on federally approved "environmentally friendly products".

This sort of information service to consumers is long overdue. People who wish to be environmentally conscious, but have neither the time nor the inclination to return to the materials of 40 years ago, need accurate up-to-date information on things like the safe alternatives to styrofoam items containing CFC's (chlorofluorocarbons).

If consumers are more discriminating in their judgement of products and less wasteful in their habits, producers and packagers will have to modify and adapt their products to conform to this new spirit of conservation. In his speech Mr. Bradley stressed the role of producers "to ensure that their product materials are recovered after use." He gives the example of producers of small batteries helping "to finance and establish battery collection and handling facilities".

If we are to get out of the mess we have got ourselves into, we are all going to have to take responsibility for the way we live and the mess we make. Polls indicate that people are sufficiently anxious about the environment that they are willing to pay more for environmentally safe products. Businesses, which in the past have often encouraged us in our spendthrift ways, may find that environmentally responsible practices which sound very much like my mother's thrift, are economically sound.

Still trolling for muskie, pike

MNR, Minden District

Fall brings out more than just brilliant colours on trees. When weather turns dirty, and skiffs of snow come blowing from lakes, a small group of die-hard fishermen can be found huddled in boats trolling for some of the biggest and most challenging game fish of the entire season.

From Moon River basin in the west, to chilly waters of the Ottawa River to the east, true muskie, pike and walleye fishermen come to the Algonquin Region.

For many fishermen, it's the best time - no bugs, few people, and lots of big fish.

So-called "warmwater species", muskie, pike, and walleye, after being hard to catch in late summer, start moving to different areas as waters cool in the fall. Their bodies are starting to prepare for a cold winter ahead. Changes in light intensity, day length and temperature trigger hormonal changes which alter feeding patterns and general behaviour.

As a result, angling techniques and baits which were useless in summer become much more efficient. Also, females of these species, which tend to be larger, become more vulnerable to angling. The net result is that chances of catching a real wall-hanger are greatest at this time of year.

Seniors celebrate Actifest

by Norma Hodgson

The Ontario Senior Games District II held a special day on Tuesday, November 15 to celebrate Haliburton Community Games - Actifest '88.

The day-long event, held at PineStone Inn and Country Club, was spent planning and preparing for the future games. The guest speaker was Betty Lynn Enns from Kitchen-

The guests present included the past committee, provincial Actifest participants, community convenors and medal winners for 1988. District II includes Haliburton and Muskoka, but to date only Haliburton County has participated, so it was encouraging to have visitors present from Muskoka.

(more on page 35)

Because it's females which are most vulnerable, you might consider capturing your catch on film, and release it to fight another day. Cooler water temperatures of fall are ideal for reducing stress on caught and released fish. Careful handling and proper techniques can ensure almost total survival of the released fish, ensuring continued angling success in future years.

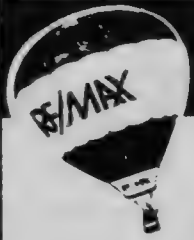

Remember, just because duck season is open, doesn't mean fish stop biting. Go out and enjoy shoulder seasons and avoid crowds and bugs.

One further word of caution. Water is cold now. Please be careful if you go out on water. Listen to and heed weather warnings. Dress for the occasion. It's easy to take off a piece of clothing, harder to find one when you don't have it. Make sure that your boat and motor can handle the conditions, and that you are wearing all survival gear required. Let people know where you are going.

Often an early rescue can mean the difference between life and death. Finally, don't take chances. Nature is much more unforgiving at this time of year if you slip up.

Fighting lung disease

For more than 80 years a little "seal" approximately 1 1/2" wide and 3 1/4" long has waged a gigantic fight against lung disease. The Christmas Seal Campaign was launched November 1 with a provincial goal of $4.5 million. The goal for Victoria - Haliburton is $2,000. Christmas Seals became the visible symbol of the fight against tuberculosis when funds were sought to send TB sufferers to sanatoria. Over the years Christmas Seals paid for millions of Canadians to have chest x-rays or tuberculin tests. While many fund raising gimmicks come and go, these bright and colourful seals symbolizing caring and hope, have remained a traditional part of the Christmas Seal Campaign. If seals were not included in the Christmas Appeal, The Lung Association is certain they would receive thousands of letters asking where they were. The focus of The Lung Association is now all types of lung disease. The association holds a meaningful place in the community because of the many programs conducted throughout the year. Unlike many other health care organizations, most of the money stays right here, within Victoria and Haliburton Counties. From the very young through all age groups, the Lung Association is in the community educating and helping through its programs. If you haven't returned your green envelope to The Lung Association, just think what your gift can do. Each Christmas Seal you place on mail and parcels may mean that a group of people in your area will receive help, or that more and more children will learn to take care of their lungs. Please show that you care and your community will benefit. Lungs are for life.

The retiring committee, Bruce Armstrong, Don and Elva Robinson and Hadden and Lenore Gillespie were the recipients of plaques honouring them for five years of hard work getting the Senior Games off the ground. Their enthusiasm and dedication has resulted in well organized programs for future Winter Games and Community Senior Games. The newly-elected committee is as follows: Bruce Armstrong as Past Co-ordinator (assisted by Don Robinson and Hadden Gillespie since Bruce is no longer a permanent resident of the county); Bob Hollobon, Co-ordinator; Harry Hodgson, Vice Co-ordinator; Dorothy Hebbington, Secretary; Norma Crewson, Convenor Chairperson; Public Relations Convenors, Norma Hodgson and May Sinclair; Registration Convenors, Audrey Deremo and Joyce Burtch; and Social Convenors, Cecile McLeod and Shirley Hodgson. The Ontario Senior Games are sponsored by the Older Adult Centres Association of Ontario in co-operation with the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation. It provides a unique program of recreational activities for adults 55 years and older. June is Senior Citizens month and all past participants will be welcomed to the Senior games, as well as all new Seniors who have chosen to spend their golden years in beautiful Haliburton County.

Pamphlet answers questions

by Doreen Hawman

Death is a difficult, distressing subject, one we will all be concerned with from time to time.

When the time arises that we should discuss death with our children, we will want to know not only what to say but how much to say and when would be the best time to approach the subject.

The Haliburton County Information Centre has been fortunate to obtain a supply of very well written booklets which deal with children and death. If you have young children and have concern about talking to them about the passing of a loved one, you would be well advised to pick up copies (without charge) to use as a reference.

CARD OF THANKS

The Highlands Little Theatre would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people and businesses who generously donated their time, products or personal effects for the recent production of "Never Too Late". Cordell Interiors, Color Your World Haliburton, Paulette's, The Times, Minden, The Storeroom, Dick Schell, HHSS and custodial staff, Mrs. Ruth Good, Dr. Robert Heyes, Dawson, Grey, Dart and a special thanks to our loyal patrons. 12A

Thank you - We extend our sincerest thanks to all those who contributed time, effort, resources and patronage to the success of our Christmas luncheon, bake sale and bazaar on November 25.

Minden United Church Women

The family of the late Tom Stinson wish to express their very sincere appreciation to all those who were so kind and helpful during both his illness and recent passing. Doctor Hartwick, all of the staff and volunteers at Haliburton Extensicare, and his roommate Hal McKelvey, your extra care and concern for him made his final days, and those of us who spent them with him, so much more bearable. To the Monk Funeral Home, the Rev. John Philips for his words of faith, his Curling chums who acted as Pallbearers, the Haliburton Highlands Rug Hookers for serving lunch following the funeral, and to all who expressed their sympathy with floral tributes, memorial donations, cards and phone calls, and by their presence, we thank you for helping us through this difficult time. Your kindness shall not be forgotten.

Stella, Bob and Joan,
Ruth and Jack (Max)
